

CURRICULUM VITAE

November 1 , 2005

Nobuo Iiduka (Iizuka)

EDUCATION:

Bachelor of Sociology, Hitotsubashi University, Japan, 1986

M.A., Economics, Chiba University, Japan, 2004

SPECIALIZATION:

Short-term economic forecast, business cycle, Labor market

JOB EXPERIENCE

1986-1993 Economic correspondent , Nihon-keizai shimbun (Nikkei)

1993-1997 Editor and writer for Monthly Magazine , Nikkei Home Publishing

1997-1999 Economic correspondent , Nikkei

1999-2003 Economist , Economic Analysis Department , JCER

2003-2005 Associate senior economist, Economic Analysis Department, JCER

2005-present Director and senior economist of Economic Analysis Department, JCER

2004-present Affiliate professor , Department of Economics, Senshu University

MAJOR PAPERS AND PUBLICATIONS:

Revision of Monthly GDP (Getsuji GDP no Kaitei) ,Japan Center for Economic Research , 2002 (in Japanese)

“Will the new QE estimation method affect the judgment of the economic situation in Japan?(Shin Suikei No GDP sokuhou to keiki handan)”, Issues and prospects of the new estimation method of QE(Shihanki GDP Shin Suikei housiki no kadai to tenbou),Japan Center for Economic Research , 2002 (in Japanese)

“Japanese Business Cycles in 1990’s(Nihon no Keiki Junkan – 1990 nendai ni nani ga okitaka)”, Business Cycles and Business Forecast(Keiki Junkan to Keiki Yosoku) , University of Tokyo press , 2003(in Japanese , with Kazumi Asako)

“Did the Japanese saving ratio decline sharply in 2001-2002 in terms of actual economy?” , JCER Researcher Report ,No.10, Japan Center for Economic Research , 2003

“Has the deflation in 1990’s pushed up the unemployment rate in Japan?(Dehure ha shitsugyoritu joushou wo kasoku sasetaka)” Chiba University , 2004 (in Japanese),

“Has Japan Really Seen a Decline in Part-Time Workers?” , JCER Researcher Report ,No.64, Japan Center for Economic Research , 2005

QUARTERLY FORECAST OF JAPANESE ECONOMY , Japan Center for Economic Research , 1999-2005(in Japanese, with Short-term forecast team of JCER)